

ASSIGNMENT:

Movie Review: The Pursuit of Happyness

The Pursuit of Happyness (2006) is an inspiring biographical drama starring Will Smith as Chris Gardner, a struggling salesman who faces extreme financial hardship while trying to build a better future for himself and his young son (played by Jaden Smith). The film, based on a true story, showcases Chris's relentless determination, resilience, and faith as he navigates homelessness and job rejections, all while caring for his son.

The movie beautifully captures the human spirit and the power of perseverance. Will Smith's performance is outstanding, bringing genuine emotion and depth to the character. The narrative is deeply moving, making it one of the most motivational films ever made.

1. Personal Review

This movie is a masterpiece in portraying real-life struggles and the power of persistence. What makes it even more emotional is the father-son relationship, which is portrayed so beautifully that it resonates deeply. The moment when Chris finally gets the job and tears well up in his eyes is truly heart-touching.

The film teaches that success does not come easy, but if one stays committed to their goals, keeps pushing forward despite failures, and never gives up, happiness will eventually follow. It is one of the most inspiring movies I have ever watched.

2. Best Dialogue & Why?

"Don't ever let somebody tell you, you can't do something. Not even me. You got a dream, you gotta protect it. People can't do something themselves, they wanna tell you, you can't do it. You want something? Go get it. Period."

This dialogue is the essence of the entire movie. It teaches us that self-belief is the key to success. Many times, people will try to discourage us, but we must trust in ourselves and keep working hard towards our dreams.

3. Key Learnings from the Movie

1. Never Give Up – No matter how tough the journey, perseverance leads to success.
2. Hard Work Pays Off – Chris Gardner's story shows that continuous effort and dedication always lead to better opportunities.
3. Believe in Yourself – If you have a dream, protect it, work for it, and don't let others discourage you.
4. Sacrifices Are Necessary – Success requires struggle, sacrifices, and patience.
5. Stay Positive in Hard Times – Even in the darkest moments, Chris kept moving forward, teaching us the power of hope and positivity.

4. Related Concepts from the Classroom

This movie is deeply connected to various concepts we study in different subjects:

1. Economics – The film showcases financial struggles, unemployment, and economic inequality, which are crucial topics in economics.
2. Problem-Solving and Critical Thinking: Chris Gardner's ability to adapt and find solutions in tough situations is similar to problem-solving in coding and debugging in software development.
3. Data Structures & Algorithms (DSA): The logical approach Chris applies to challenges is similar to structured problem-solving in DSA.
4. Cloud Computing & Finance: Just like investment and risk assessment in cloud computing, Chris takes calculated risks in his career to achieve success.
5. Entrepreneurship & Business Studies – Chris Gardner's ability to take risks and his perseverance align with entrepreneurial principles. His internship was unpaid, yet he saw it as an investment in his future.
6. Psychology – The movie highlights grit, emotional intelligence, and resilience, which are key psychological traits in personal growth and success.
7. Mathematics (Logical Thinking & Problem-Solving) – The way Chris solves problems and finds innovative ways to sell medical scanners relates to logical reasoning, which is also used in subjects like mathematics and coding.
8. Time Management & Goal Setting (Soft Skills & Career Development) – Chris efficiently manages his time during the internship and remains focused on his long-term goal, a concept taught in career development.

Conclusion:

The Pursuit of Happyness is more than just a movie; it's a lesson in perseverance, self-belief, and hope. It inspires us to keep pushing forward, regardless of our struggles, and to always protect our dreams.
